

BIRMINGHAM
2007

Want to see the latest desktop technology?

At the annual European GNOME Conference, GNOME hackers from all across the globe will gather in Birmingham's UCE Conservatoire and show off new cool technologies, party and discuss the future direction of the project.

Keynote speakers include Ubuntu Community manager Jono Bacon, kernel hacker Robert Love, Alex Graveley of Tomboy and Gimmie fame and Nokia embedded rockstar Ari Jaaksi!

What is GNOME ?

The GNOME project provides two things: The GNOME desktop environment, an intuitive and attractive desktop for users, and the GNOME development platform, an extensive framework for building applications that integrate into the rest of the desktop.

for more details and information
www.guadec.org
see YOU at the party